Brilliant Social Event in St John's, Bedford City.

Weds Mr. Charles Scott Adams,

of Lynchburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BEDFORD CITY, June 22.—The most brilliant event in the social event annals of Bedford City, was the marriage of Miss Lottle Ruskell Griffin, daughter of Major and Mrs. Samuel Griffin to Mr. Charles Scott Adams, of Lynchburg, which was colemnized this evening at 9 o'clock at St. John's Episcopal Church by the rector, Rev. Dallas Tucker, in the presence of a large assemblage of invited guests and interested spectators.

There were eight hundred invitations issued, a hundred or more guests from Lynchburg and other points attending. The church was handsomely adorned in green and white with touches of plak. The center alsie, chancel and rostrum were covered with white provailing, a pure and attractive effect beneath the soft light of electric illumination.

Just prior to the entrance of the bridal party, Miss Janic Tunstall sang delightfully soveral appropriate selections, with Miss Rosalle Smith as accompanist, who also rendered the wedding music.

The ushers were Misses H. O. Humphrey, of Bedford City; D. B. Ryland, B. B. Adams, J. M. Otey, of Lynchburg. The ushers were Misses H. O. Humphrey, youngest sister of the bride, first bridesmald; Misses Guste Bowles, of Salem; Kate Robinson, of Abingdon; Hennie Payne and Bde Adams, sister of the groom, of Lynchburg. They were attired in beautiful costumes of white hand-madd lingerce, with trimings of lace over green taffeta. Dresden girdles and bouquets of delignic, plak sweet peas. Mrs. H. O. Humphreys, the bride's sister, in a handsome robe of plak flowered net, over white silk, carrying La France roses, was matron of honor; Miss Nannie Griffin, also a sister of the bride, in a pale green white silk, carrying La France roses, was matron toses, was mald of honor.

The groomsmen were Messrs. R. H. T. Adams, James Duval Adams, Dexter Otey, Robert O. Horton, Henry M. Sackett, of Lynchburg and Malcolm Griffin, brother of the bride.

The bride's robe was an exquisite creation of white liberty chiffon, with trimmings of Duchess lace, over white tanfeta. Her collar was fastened with a beautiful pearl pin, the gift of her mother and the veil was caught in position with a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom, and white orchids. Her flowers weer orchids and lillies of the valley—a shower bounset.

She is of rare and radiant beauty, of perfect blonde type and her bridal robes well became her. She is as lovely in character as charming and gracious in manner, as she is beautiful.—Mr. Owen Hanvey, of Lynchburg, was best man.

The groom is a representative of one of the most numerous, wealthy and influential family connections of Lynchburg, a member of the large coal, lumber and builders' materials firm of Adams Bros., Payne & Co., and is very popular.

At the conclusion of the ceremony an elegant reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Humphreys, where artistic floral decorations throughout all the rooms, handsome winning toilets, many soft lights, delightful music from a hidden orchestra of Italian musicians, dainty refreshments and gental hospitality all conspired to make the occasion pleasureable and very memorable. all conspired to make the occasion pleasureable and very memorable.
